

THE FESTIVAL FOR STUDENTS AND TEACHERS OF VISUAL ARTS

29 & 31 May 2009 www.fehva.com P 02 6687 1623 E fehva@buttery.org.au

VISUAL ARTS TEACHER PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOPS

WEDNESDAY MAY 27

9.00am – 3.30pm

Video Art Making in Action

Presenter - Chris Knowles

The workshop program will include discussion of the practical requirements for the teaching and practice of video art, together with hands-on experience. Participants will gain practical knowledge of basic video camera operation, editing and presentation.

To illustrate a range of teaching, learning and production strategies, participants will create a 4D artwork in the form of an interactive multi-screen video installation. The work will be exhibited after the workshop. Workshop participants will not require any previous experience.

Participants to bring: a digital video camera ready to use with accessories (on booking a comprehensive list will be provided) Blank recording media for their camera and a blank DVD.

Background:

Chris Knowles is a video/audio artist, academic and teacher who has created large scale and permanent works for public spaces and events around Australia and exhibited internationally.

Venue: Southern Cross University, room to be advised (max 30 participants)

THURSDAY MAY 28

9.00am – 3.30pm

Contemporary Video Art Practice: Incorporating 4D /
Moving / Time-based forms in Visual Arts Teaching and Learning Programs

Presenters - Wendy Ramsay and Dr Craig Judd

This workshop reviews the moving image in 7-12 Visual Arts teaching and learning programs, focusing on the MOVE Video Art in Schools resource as a departure point for investigating contemporary video art practice and video artists, learning activities and engaging with audiences and ideas.

Background:

Wendy Ramsay is the Visual Arts Advisor, Creative Arts Unit, Curriculum K-12 Directorate NSW Department of Education and Training. She is a visual arts educator and provides curriculum advice and develops online and print resources to support visual arts teachers and students in government schools. Wendy conducts professional development workshop programs for K-12 teachers in metropolitan and regional areas throughout NSW and presents at HSC study days, state, interstate and national conferences and symposia and consults with a range of art agencies to deliver educational programs.

Dr Craig Judd is a curator, arts writer and educator who has worked in state and regional galleries throughout Australia. He has been an educator and public programs manager for Biennale of Sydney and has lectured extensively on contemporary practice and historical art both nationally and internationally.

Venue: Southern Cross University, room D105, Music Building

Tickets: $90 each workshop (bookings through Jetset Travel Byron Bay, booking form attached)

